PICKET WHILE WORKING

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A labor union has gone modern and devised a method of picketing at the nation's space center which takes the strain off the feet.

Instead of marching back and forth with picket signs, members of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees have hired an airplane to tow a banner "airing" their complaint. The banner reads: "RCA Unfair."

Members of the union have been involved in a contract dispute with RCA since 1964 but have not been staying off the job.

Off to Visit Native Germany

SERVICE TO NEIGHBORHOOD

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — Chester Hamulak installed a rotor on the aerial atop a 15-foot mast on his home so he would get the very best reception from his new color television set.

When he finished the job, he found reception no better than before.

But his next-door neighbor, Herbert Satterfield, reported that he was getting good pictures as far away as Cincinnati.

Mrs. Jewell Ames, Columbus road, left yesterday by air for a two weeks visit with her parents in her native Heidelberg, Germany.

Mr. Ames put her aboard Trans Texas' early morning plane at Texarkana Thursday for Dallas, where she boarded American Airlines' jet Flight 98-Y for New York at 12:30 p.m.

At New York she took the German line Lufthansa's overnight jet to Frankfurt, arriving in the German city at 8:30 a.m.

Friday, Continental time, and being met at the airport by her family from Heidelberg.

Helga and Mr. Ames, then a career man in the U.S. Army, were married in Heidelberg in 1954. This is her first reunion with her family since a brief visit in 1959.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Frommer, and their address is 14 Waibstadterstr., Epfenbach Bei Heidelberg (that word "bei" meaning "near").

TOWNS MOVED APART

MIAMI (AP) — The world may be getting smaller, but the official 1966 Florida road map lists greater distances between Miami and 38 other cities in the state than did the 1965 map.

A State Road Department spokesman attributed the greater distances, ranging from one to six miles, to construction of "better highways — but not necessarily in a straight line between cities."

Pakistan Official Takes Office Oath

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Sharifuddin Pirzada, Pakistan's attorney general, was sworn in today as the country's new foreign minister.

Pirzada, 43, succeeds Z. A. Bhutto who retired last June 21. Bhutto was regarded as a chief advocate of closer ties with Red China.

Americans Are Getting Fatter and Fatter

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced today what most of us already know: Americans are getting fatter. Fatter than the British, the Canadians and goodness knows who else.

The Public Health Service offered no explanation. But 3,086 beefed-up foreign students offer plenty. They involve American favorites such as fried chicken, pumpkin pie and ice cream.

Living for a year with American families, the teen-agers gained an over-all 16 tons. They're taking home their added pounds to 59 countries this weekend.

Almost any one of the American Field Service students from overseas will say he or she gained from 2 or 3 to 30 or 40 pounds. No one said his or her new size would hurt the American image, but few thought it would help it.

Tamara Magalotti of Forli, Italy, gained 25 pounds on "malts, ice-cream, pastries and pies. Americans eat and eat. I can't get over it."

They call Nora Champen of Piura, Peru, "Porky" now that she's added 25 pounds on pumpkin pie and other goodies. Katie A. Ketonen of Helsinki, Finland, added 20 pounds. She blames fried chicken and ice cream.

Hiroshi Tanaka of Tokyo, gained 25 pounds on Mexican-type food and reports "it's going to be hard to explain. I plan to say 'Americans are just fatter.'"

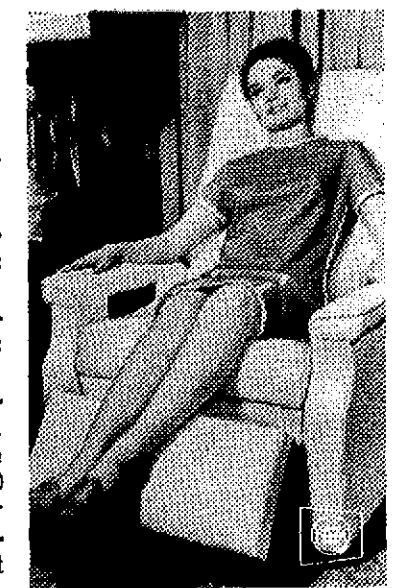

The Public Health Service survey which adds weight to this view was made between 1959 and 1962 and covered 6,672 adults. It is the first such nationwide study by the government.

Findings compared to similar British and Canadian studies showed that Americans weighed about five pounds more than the Canadians and 10 to 15 pounds more than the British.

The Americans examined were between the ages of 18 and 79. The Public Health Service said comparisons were made "without adjustments for clothing." Here are some average weights reported in its findings:

- Men—146 pounds at 5 feet 2.
- Women—142 pounds at 5 feet 2.
- Men—168 pounds at 5 feet 8.
- Women—154 pounds at 5 feet 8.
- Men—190 pounds at 6 feet 1.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The peripatetic reporter—

"They're getting married at 5:30 in Las Vegas." There could be no doubt who "they" were: Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow, match. But this was early afternoon and Las Vegas was 300 miles away and the airlines were booked solid until Labor Day or the end of the strike, according to which occurred first. The solution: Charter a plane.

It lumbered off the Burbank runway and headed eastward to the desert. The pilot, who apparently likes weddings, gunned the motor and made the flight in slightly over an hour. Ground temperature: 109.

Much excitement at the airport: Sinatra has landed; Mia's due. The sleek white jet of Sinatra's air taxi company gave evidence that the wedding rumors were true.

The Sands Hotel was buzzing. An armed guard had been stationed outside the presidential suite, which Sinatra customarily occupies. Al Freeman of the Sands issued the rules of the game. The bride and bridegroom would emerge after the wedding for a brief session with the press before departure.

The Sinatras did indeed come out on the porch of the apartment of Jack Entratter, Sands headman. Mia sported her boyish haircut and was a-glitter with diamonds. Frank exhibited more hair—not all of it home-grown—and spoke so affably to reporters he surprised some of them.

The couple posed for photos—but not in kissing pose. Then they strolled to a white Cadillac, drove to their waiting white jet, and took off for a destination

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

MISS LOUISE DAUGHERTY

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Daugherty of Stamps, announce the forth coming marriage of their daughter, Louise, 512 W. 2nd St., Pine Bluff, Ark., formerly of Hope. The groom-elect is Harvey Taylor also of Pine Bluff. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Taylor of Fordyce, Ark.

Miss Daugherty is employed with Kroger and Mr. Taylor is employed by International Paper Co. The couple will exchange vows July 31 at 3 p.m. in the Forrest Park Assembly of God Church in Pine Bluff.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

not announced.

There was another story in Las Vegas that day. The apparently accidental shooting of Mrs. Red Skelton. The comedian was in seclusion all day, but he went on with his show at night.

Skelton was ever the clown, joking, mugging and taking falls. He even told about attending the Sinatra wedding.

"The bride took her thumb out of her mouth, and Frank put the ring on her finger," said the comic. As the audience howled, Red added: "Enjoy it now, because you'll never hear it on TV."

Only in his dressing room after the show did Skelton admit his emotional upset over his wife's mishap. The clown cried.

And so back to the plane for the return to reality.

Television and Radio

By NICK VANOFF
(For Cynthia Lowry)

EDITOR'S NOTE—Nick Vanoff, executive producer of ABC's "Hollywood Palace," discovered for himself one of Ed Sullivan's secrets — that good music, classical performers and serious artists are enjoyed by the mass public. That is, if they are given in small doses and mixed into the right medium, which is the variety show.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If serious music shows attract small television audiences, as the rating services indicate, why not put serious artists as guest stars on mass audience appeal shows?

This has been our practice on "The Hollywood Palace" and will continue to be so, increasingly, on future shows. Among those we have used on our show are artists who are infrequent prime-time performers — guitarist Luiz Bonfá; opera stars Anna Moffo and Mary Costa; ballet dancers Jacques D'Amboise, Margot Fonteyn, Rudolf Nureyev, Zizi Jeanmaire; Mahalia Jackson; Ballet Folklorico of Mexico; ma Sumac; the Swingle Singers.

The response to the serious performers on our show has been as great as, if not greater than that for pop artists. This indicates that they have appeal far beyond a minority audience and it may well be that their presentations within a comfortable, informal format accomplishes what a stiff, formal format does not.

It is entirely possible that the "intellectual" approach to serious music is old hat. Viewers do not want to be prodded into well? Proof that these have more than held their own is the fact that we are going after — for repeat performances — most of the artists we have already used. We will also try to get a Leontyne Price, Bunraku — the Japanese doll theatre — and pianist Van Cliburn.

Television has a responsibility to all potential viewers. Although the juvenile mind may influence the success of many shows, program content must include something for the discerning viewer.

"The Palace" enjoys its present success because we do, in fact, cover the entire spectrum of variety entertainment, including performers whose specialty appeals to a limited audience.

HELEN HELP US!

— by Helen Battel —

GREAT AMERICAN GAME: RUNNING DOWN YOUR MATE

Dear Helen: I just got back from sitting in a Dental chair and hearing a supposedly intelligent man pick his wife to pieces bit by bit. I was appalled at the petty remarks he made.

On the way home I stopped at the market and overheard two men talking together. From what horrid and hideous wives alive.

When I go to woman's parties, I get the same thing — wives making mincemeat of their husbands. People seem to try out doing each other to tell the meanest things about their mates. Maybe they think it is amusing. I think it makes a terrible impression. I can't help but believe disrespect for one another is the big reason there is so much disrespect in children today. Kids are great little imitators.

Is this the sad, that we must try to make others believe our choice in a partner is so terrible? Or is this caused by egotism and need to make oneself seem better by comparison?

And am I old-fashioned to believe you should build up your mate in public, and if he needs a bit of knocking down, that is strictly between you and him? — Barbara

Dear Barbara: Any mate who doesn't believe this is bucking for an unhappy marriage... and also the reputation of a whiner. Seems to me pride would keep married people from broadcasting their dissatisfaction. After all what they're able to attract reflects on themselves. — H.

IS IT LUV?

Dear Helen: I was looking through our daughter's annual and became shocked at the casual way these high school kids use the word "Love." Almost every boy signed "Luv Ya," and many of them Janie didn't even know except to speak to in the hall. She says this is the way kids do it now — vor don't start a letter with "Dear," just with the name of the person, but you always sign it "Luv," or "Luv ya always," or "Love."

What bothers me is, when the real thing comes along, what are they going to call it? — Mrs. T.

Dear Mrs. T: They'll figure out something. My teenage advisors tell me "Luv ya" or Luv are to the Pep Set what "Cordially" is Stoneagers.

This I'll buy, but I wish they'd leave "love" for later. — Helen Dear Helen: My wife found a house at a big bargain and we bought it without checking on the neighbors. I now find that a former very good friend of mine and her husband live across the street.

This former friend of my bachelor days and I agreed to break it off, but I paid for the baby, which she kept. Now every day when I come home from work, there's that two-year-old kid out playing — MY kid! All this happened before I met my wife, and I saw no point in telling her. I can't get up any fatherly feelings about the boy, but his mother indicates she might like to take up where we left off.

If I tell my wife we have to sell out and move she will think I've gone over the hill — this is the kind of house we always wanted. But you can see what this situation is doing to me. Get me out of this, Helen! — Users About

Dear U.A.: Try truth. If your wife is the understanding type, she will understand and it will set her to house hunting. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble.

CONFUSED about the Primary Elections next Tuesday? (It's Understandable!)

For the first time in modern history, statewide primary elections for both the Republican and Democratic parties will be held in Arkansas. Both elections will be held on the same day, next Tuesday, July 26.

If you registered to vote on or before July 5 of this year, you can vote in either primary you choose. YOU CANNOT VOTE IN BOTH.

Since the statewide Republican primary is a new thing in Arkansas, many citizens want to know who can vote in it.

ALL REPUBLICANS, INDEPENDENTS, AND ANYONE WHO WISHES TO DO SO MAY VOTE IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY.

Whichever primary you vote in, YOU ARE FREE TO VOTE FOR WHOMEVER YOU WISH — REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRAT — in the November General Election.

WHERE DO YOU VOTE?

Republicans and Democrats will have separate voting places; in most cases, the voting places will even be in separate buildings. Locations of voting places for both primaries will be published in your local newspapers.

CHOOSE YOUR PRIMARY, EITHER DEMOCRATIC OR REPUBLICAN, AND VOTE IN IT. YOU HAVE NOT OBLIGATED YOURSELF IN ANY WAY. YOU ARE FREE TO VOTE IN THE GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8 FOR ANYONE ON THE BALLOT — REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRAT.

REMEMBER, YOUR FREEDOM OF CHOICE TO VOTE FOR WHOMEVER YOU PLEASE IS STILL PROTECTED BY LAW!

Admittedly, the choice may be hard. Perhaps you want to vote for Winthrop Rockefeller in the Republican Primary, and local candidates in the Democratic Primary. But you cannot vote in both primaries. Here is our suggestion:

Republicans and any others who are tired of one-party rule CAN VOTE IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY. STAND UP AND BE COUNTED TUESDAY! VOTE WITH US.

Remember, in the November Election you can vote for whomever you choose, regardless of their political party affiliation or yours OR REGARDLESS OF WHICH PRIMARY YOU VOTED IN... YOU CAN "SPLIT YOUR TICKET" ANY WAY YOU CHOOSE.

IT'S YOUR AMERICAN HERITAGE

Mets Smile at Slaughter of Giants

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
As oratory, it may not rank with the declamations of Winston Churchill, say, or Casey Stengel, but future baseball historians may well regard Westrum's statement as marking a critical turning point in the history of the New York Mets.

The Mets' manager was smiling beneficently at his charges Thursday as they celebrated their 14-3 victory over San Francisco and their six-game win streak, longest in the history of the club.

"If we continue at this pace," Westrum philosophized, "we'll be up there at the end of this month."

Westrum did not specify exactly where "up there" was, but he made his point. Never in their five-year existence, have the Mets been able to consider any problem more pressing than escaping last place.

But now, more than 10 games removed from the cellar, the Mets can begin to think the unthinkable. Eighth place perhaps — only a half-game away. Or would you believe seventh? It's just two games ahead.

The Mets' win streak began with two doubleheader triumphs over Houston and now has included two in a row over the Giants, who have lost seven of their last nine games and are within a game of first place only because of Los Angeles' deriding-do victory over the Pirates, 4-3.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago beat Cincinnati 6-1, St. Louis outslugged Atlanta 7-1 and Houston nudged Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Boston beat California 7-3, New York edged Kansas City in 10 innings 4-3, Chicago beat Cleveland 7-2, Minnesota took Washington 1-0 and Baltimore beat Detroit 6-4.

"I'm proud, very proud," said Westrum of his club's win streak. "I thought about it before the game." And winning pitcher Dennis Ribant summed up the current mood of the club succinctly: "We feel we can win now."

The Dodgers and Pirates engaged in an old-time melodrama on the Coast, with Los Angeles finally winning in the 10th when reliever Pete Mikkelsen hit John Kennedy with a pitch after he had purposely walked John Roseboro to load the bases.

The Pirates had gone ahead in their half of the inning on a pinch hit homer by Bob Bailey. Before that, the Dodgers had tied the game in the bottom of the ninth and before that the Pirates went ahead with two runs in the eighth.

Merritt Ties AL Strikeout Record

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
The way things had been going for him, Jim Merritt wasn't the most likely candidate for a line in the American League record book.

But Merritt's in the book today and he earned his way there with a brilliant three-hitter that gave the Minnesota Twins a 1-0 victory over Washington Thursday night.

Merritt, who had been strafed for seven home runs in his last three starts and showed a 1-8 record for the season, struck out 12 Senators including seven in a row over one stretch.

The string of strikeouts tied the American League record held by four other pitchers. And it marked the third time the record has been matched in Washington's D.C. Stadium this season.

"The way I've been going," Merritt said later, "I'm just happy for the victory. No, I had no idea I was near any record. I was just trying to get them out."

Merritt, who has been having trouble getting past the first few innings this season, pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the first. Then, after Ken McMullen doubled to open the third, he started his strikeout spree.

The record, originally set by Ryne Duren and matched last year by Detroit's Denny McLain, had been tied by Phil Ortega and Pete Richert of the Senators, this season.

Elsewhere in the American League Thursday, Frank Robinson hammered a pair of home runs as Baltimore downed Detroit 6-4. Boston escaped the cellar with a 7-3 victory over California, New York edged Kansas City 4-3 in 11 innings and Chicago defeated Cleveland 7-2.

In the National League, New York battered San Francisco 14-3, Chicago whipped Cincinnati 6-1, Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2, St. Louis downed Atlanta 7-4 and Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 4-3 in 10 innings.

After McMullen's hit, Merritt retired the last 21 batters he faced for his first complete game in the majors. He was 5-4, mostly in relief, with the Twins last year.

Minnesota's only run came in the ninth inning when Don Mincher doubled, moved to third on an infield out and came home on Jim Hannan's wild pitch.

Robinson's two homers gave him four in the last three games, 27 for the season and 351 for his major league career. The slugging Baltimore outfielder also had two other hits and drove in three runs as the rampaging Orioles opened their lead to 1 1/2 games.

The victory completed a sweep of the Tigers by the Orioles, who walloped Detroit pitching for 47 hits in the three games.

Rico Petrocelli delivered a bases-loaded single in the seventh inning, breaking a 3-3 tie and lifting the Red Sox over California. The victory moved Boston past Washington into ninth place.

Elston Howard tripled and Jake Gibbs singled the winning run home as the Yankees won their sixth straight, beating Kansas City in 11 innings.

Gibbs' throwing error had helped the Athletics tie the score in the ninth inning.

John Buzhardt pitched a six-hitter and Floyd Robinson hit a two-run homer as Chicago won its third straight over Cleveland.

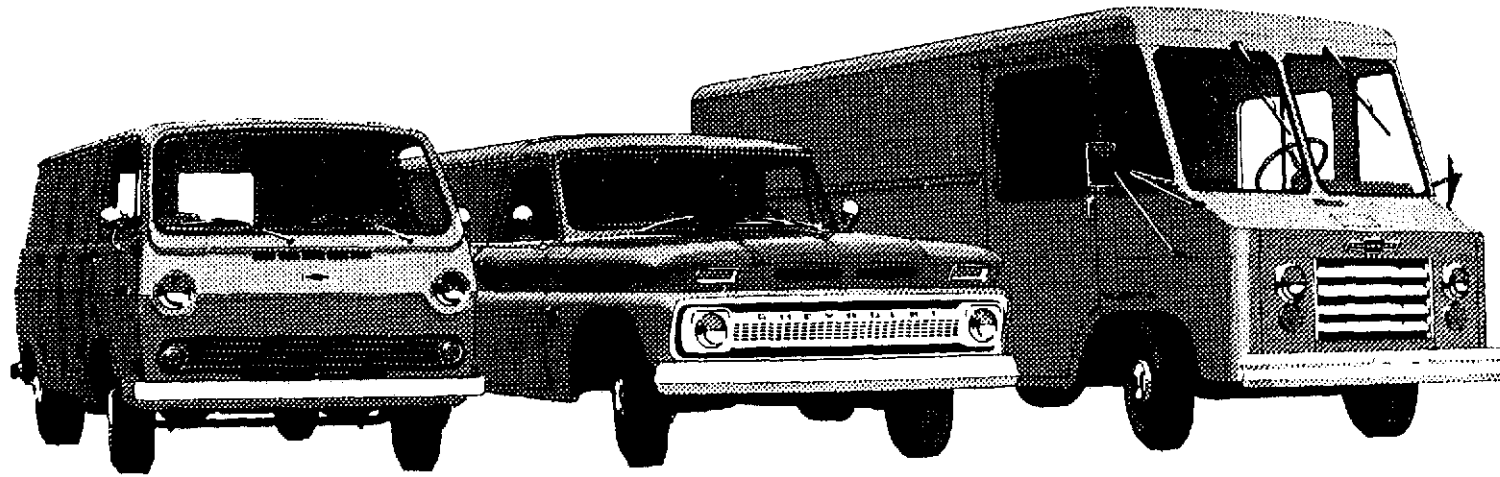

Fred Whitfield and Chuck Hinton belted ninth-inning homers, depriving Buzhardt of his fourth shutout of the season.

Cardinale: Success Without Trying

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Claudia Cardinale is a tribute to the persistence of the Italian movie industry.

The beautiful and very capable actress, who has made 28 films in the last eight years, did not want to be a film star.
"I was supposed to be a teacher. I am a teacher, elementary school, but I've never beauty contest held in connection with a charity ball at the Italian Embassy in Tunis.

She won the prize as the "Most Beautiful Italian Girl in Tunis," a trip to the Venice Film Festival. She went with her mother, and was immediately spotted by men with an eye for beauty.

"But I refused for six months to be in the movies. I thought it was a wild and crazy business and everyone talked too much. I don't like a lot of talk. I don't know why I did sign a contract, maybe because they insist so much.
But I start in pictures and my first film was such a success I have to continue."

Claudia now likes acting and is a serious, thorough performer who studies the externals of the character she is to play.

"I don't act aloud in my room. I prefer to improvise before the camera. But I like to know everything about the girl, her milieu, the way she can be dressed, how she wears her hair, her make-up. This is all very important because the way she is outside can change the character's gestures or the way she moves."

The one facet of being an international star that Claudia doesn't like is the lack of privacy.

"I have a private life. Even if I am a movie star, I don't want to mix that with work.
The only thing I don't want to accept about acting is the fact that an actress has to have a public life. I am not going to accept it," she said emphatically.

She is tall, beautifully shaped, relaxed and friendly.
Her hair is long, and a lustrous shade of brown. The movie-going public has hardly ever seen it.

"I wear wigs with the long hair inside. I think it is better to be different all the time.
For 'Blindfold' I thought short hair would be good for the part. Otherwise, she would have to do a chignon, and that would be too old for her."
She stopped and smiled.
"When I talk of the character
I play, I always say 'she.' I never say, 'I was doing' something. I say 'she was doing it.'"

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Psoriasis Is a Vexing Problem

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Newer products for local application use a greaseless, stainless base.
For acute psoriasis of the scalp, a warm mineral oil should be applied first to loosen the scales. This is followed by a tar shampoo, after which fluocinolone acetonide (Synalar), a cortisone derivative, is applied. All attempts to remove the scales should be gentle after a preliminary soaking in a lubricating bath (Alpha-Keri, Domol or Lu-bath).

Aminopterin and metho-trexate are sometimes given but these are powerful drugs that should be used only on the most severe cases and then only under strict medical supervision.

Vitamins have been tried but have proved disappointing. One important dietary measure has, however, been discovered recently. Normal persons eliminate faurine, an amino acid found in foods of animal origin, but persons with psoriasis do not. When psoriasis victims adhere to a diet that contains no beef, lamb, pork or glandular cuts such as liver and kidneys, sea foods, eggs and dairy products, a remarkable improvement occurs. It is difficult, but not impossible, to get an adequate protein intake on such a diet.

Psoriasis is a constantly vexing problem to millions of people. In this disease the skin produces large, hard, shiny scales that are most frequently found on the scalp, elbows, knees and hips. The disease is unsightly but otherwise is not a threat to one's health. The cause is unknown.
A reader asks whether the drug metronidazole (Flagyl) is used to treat this disease. My 1966 drug book lists over 80 remedies for psoriasis but metronidazole is not one of them. This drug is used to combat infection, but psoriasis is not an infectious disease.

One of the sure rules of medicine is that whenever a lot of drugs are used to treat a condition none of them is very satisfactory. In the case of psoriasis some of the older drugs, and some of the new ones, will improve the condition and keep it in check but none is a cure.
Since sunlight is beneficial to the lesions, the disease is usually better in summer but a sun lamp can be used to treat it at home in all kinds of weather.
The ointments used in the past, such as chrysarobin ammoniated mercury and coal tar products, had the disad-vantage that they were messy
— a case of the cure being almost as bad as the disease

South's failure to try to get to a grand slam was due to the fact that he and his partner were playing limit raises and that North's jump to three hearts had limited his hand to 12 or 13 points in support of hearts.

When he looked over dummy, South wished that he hadn't even gone to six. He had a sure diamond loser and a very probable club loser.

Unfortunately, there is no way to get out of playing a contract so South went ahead as best he could. He drew trumps, played out the spades ruffing the third lead, and threw West in with a diamond.

West was in the unenviable position of being forced to make a losing lead of some sort. Declarer was out of spades and a spade lead would give a ruff and discard.

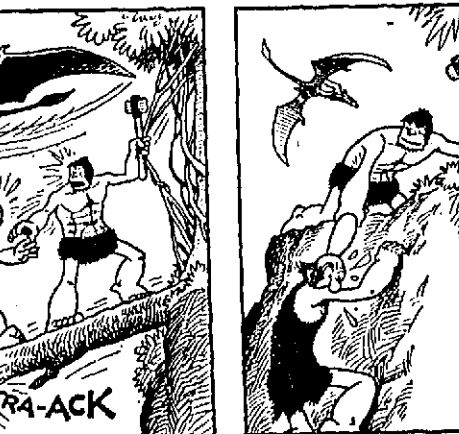

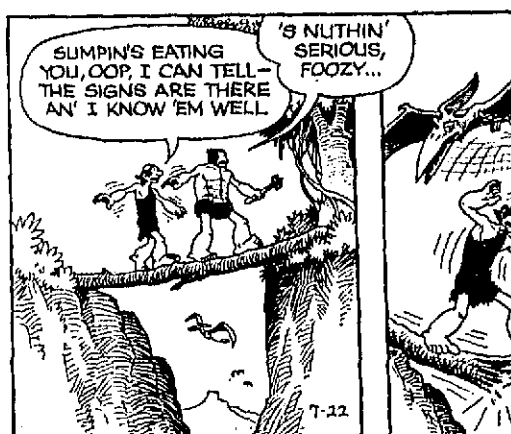

West went through the procedure of counting the hand. South had started with two spades and five hearts and had played two diamonds. This left him with four cards in the minor suits. If two were diamonds there was no way to beat the slam. If one happened to be a diamond, West could afford to lead a diamond back. Suppose that South was out of diamonds! So what! A diamond lead would give South a ruff and discard but South would still be left with three clubs in one hand and four in the other.

If South held both ace and queen of clubs nothing would do the defense any good. If East held the queen a ruff and discard could not give South his contract. West led a diamond. South got his ruff and discard but it did him no good. He still had the same club loser he started with.

Astronauts Return to Cape Today

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Gemini 10's astronauts fly back to Cape Kennedy today to fill in the details of one of man's most remarkable space flights — an adventure that set guidelines for the moon and for military man-in-space programs.

Navy Cmdr. John W. Young and space-walker Michael Collins, an Air Force major, were to leave the helicopter carrier Guadalcanal between 9 and 9:30 a.m. EST today for a two-hour helicopter ride to the cape — where their dramatic journey began Monday.

During 70 hours, 47 minutes in space they caught and docked with one Agena satellite, used the Agena engine to dart to a record altitude of 476 miles, and rendezvoused with an old lifeless Agena.

Collins set records of his own when he made two space excursions — one a "stand-up" maneuver, the other a space walk. Although both were shortened by problems, he walked over to the "dead" Agena and retrieved a package that had been recording micrometeorite impacts for four months.

They brought back a total of seven space "firsts."

Young and Collins climaxed their brilliant flight late Thursday steering Gemini 10 to a near perfect landing in the western Atlantic Ocean about 550 miles east southeast of Cape Kennedy.

The spacecraft splashed down only 7.5 miles from the Guadalcanal. Less than half an hour later a helicopter deposited them on the deck of the carrier as the ship's band played "It's a Big, Wide Wonderful World."

"It's a pleasure to be here," Young told the sailors on the ship.

"Thanks for picking us up," Collins added. "Beautiful job."

Below decks, a physical examination awaited and the first of numerous sessions with technical experts who will evaluate every phase of the mission.

"They have no medical problems," reported Dr. Kenneth Beers. "They're in good shape."

He said they were so thirsty that within a short period Collins drank four colas and Young had five glasses of water.

The astronauts, both 35, will remain at Cape Kennedy until Sunday night or Monday, discussing the flight in general terms. Then they will fly to the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., for eight days of detailed debriefing.

On Aug. 1, they'll hold a news conference in Houston.

Space Agency officials hailed Gemini 10 as one of the most rewarding man-in-space flights yet. Said Dr. George E. Mueller, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight: "The results of this flight are of considerable importance to the Apollo man-to-the-moon mission. The experience we've had in the extravehicular (space walk) and rendezvous and docking has been extremely gratifying."

Mueller listed the rendezvous with the powerless Agena 8, left in space last March, as one major achievement. The pilots had to use mainly optical means to pull within a few inches of it.

Yen Bari Raid One of Most Successful

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The target was the Yen Bai military complex 80 miles northwest of Hanoi.

From airbases in Thailand, U.S. jet bombers swept across North Viet Nam to the Red River Valley.

They smothered Yen Bai with thousands of lethal "bombs."

The noise was terrifying.

The Yen Bai raid was one of the most successful of the war. U.S. officers claimed it wiped out 25 anti-aircraft sites and the crews manning them. It left Yen Bai in flames.

The weapon largely responsible was the CBU or cluster bomb unit.

It is one of a large catalogue of new or improved weapons providing American and allied forces with an awesome amount of firepower.

Matching this weapons arsenal are guerrilla-fighting tactics which, like the weapons, have been devised for or adapted to the jungles and paddies of South Viet Nam. The Viet Cong soldier still retains his main counter "weapon" of elusiveness. He burrows into the ground in tunnels or holes, or "melts into the countryside" as a peasant, or fades across the borders of neighboring Cambodia and Laos.

Except for the Yen Bai raid late last spring, the cluster bomb unit has been used largely against Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Primarily an antipersonnel weapon, the CBU is a canister containing some 800 bomblets with orange noses and silvery tail fins.

They are blown from the canister by compressed air, shower down to earth in bursts of light and overpowering noise.

The effect has been likened to hurling 800 extra-powerful hand grenades at the enemy.

In recent months napalm has been added to the bomblets and the pellets hit their target with both fire and steel.

Another weapon of fearsome firepower is the "Dragon Ship," sometimes called "Puff, the Magic Dragon." Twin-engine C47 planes, the old reliable of World War II, carry three guns, each with six rotating barrels. They are mounted in the plane, all on one side and protruding through windows and the door.

Fired at the same time, the machine guns can spit out 18,000 rounds per minute.

The Dragon Ships also make use of the new "star light" telescopic gunsight. This gathers and amplifies dim light in night operations. In a recent action, a star light scope caught 200 enemy troops moving along the Ho Chi Minh trail and the Dragon Ships nearly wiped them out.

Tactically, B52 bombers can unload tons of explosives on guerrilla concentrations or base camps from such high altitudes that the Viet Cong never hear or see them.

The eight-engine bombers carry 500-750 and 1,000-pound bombs. They fly in above the weather at 40,000 feet and rain explosives on a target by radar control.

Also tactically, jet fighter-bombers provide air support for ground operations that is unmatched in any previous conflict.

American pilots average 400 to 500 sorties a day; South Vietnamese pilots fly an additional 100 to 200 sorties.

"Sky spot" radar control guides fliers to their targets from the ground and enables them to bomb targets in darkness, cloudy weather or rain.

Even the infantryman is armed with greater firepower than in other wars.

In some parts of the Arab world, a man is considered a weakling if he refuses to drink dirty water.

Kids Come to Dance at 'La Loco'

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PARIS — (NEA) — The Moulin Rouge has not been made a discotheque, but you'd never know it from the outside scene Saturday evenings and three afternoons each week.

That's when upwards of 2,000 French teen-agers wend their way into Paris' biggest dance hall, a place called "La Locomotive" buried beneath the world-famous music hall and night club in Montmartre.

"La Loco," as the kids call it, is also the biggest youth club in Europe. Some 20,000 Parisian teen-agers between 16 and 19 are members. When they reach 20, membership ends.

"The kids come to dance," said 40-year-old Jacques Petitjean, one of the three creators of La Loco. "They care about nothing else—not even rowdiness."

Hard to believe?

La Loco, Petitjean explained, has one hard and fast rule that keeps disturbances to a bare minimum: When a member leaves the club, either on his own or upon request, he is not allowed back in for that session.

"They all are out-and-out rockers," Petitjean said, "but they don't confine their dancing to the latest crazes — the frog, the slop, the surf and the letkiss."

"They dance everything from the old-fashioned American jitterbug to linking arms in a French chorus line," he said.

The music—live and recorded—is continuous. When the band stops, pretty Parisienne Jocelyne Paris, 20, begins spinning the discs.

Favorite recording artists run the gamut. The English groups, led by the Beatles, of course, have their place on the program, as do French pop singers such as Richard Anthony.

Two American favorites are Elvis Presley and Chuck Berry, who both have been around nearly as long as rock 'n' roll music itself.

Berry recently put in an appearance at La Loco. "We packed them in," Petitjean C'EST FORMIDABLE: The scene is a Paris youth club named "La Locomotive" located beneath the Moulin Rouge, and not a Dick Clark rock 'n' roll show in Philadelphia. Here, singer Patrick Samson entertains club members while they take a breather from their favorite club pastime—dancing.

said, "and they went positively mad with enthusiasm."

La Locomotive is now in its third year of operation, but the success of it is firmly established.

To become a member, a teen-ager must present identity papers along with a 10-franc ($2) membership fee. After that, each session costs each member, guy or gal, $1.50.

Alcohol is sold on the premises—a drink costs the same as a soft drink—but the bartenders reckon they sell 80 soft drinks to one whisky or Scotch.

Petitjean went to the United States 10 years ago as a free-lance photographer. There he got the idea for La Locomotive. Upon his return here, he and his colleagues set their plan in motion.

One American idea he borrowed was a gallery, a ropedoff spot, called La Cage aux Vieux, from which parents and sight-seers can watch the goings-on.

Petitjean admitted he went out on a limb when he set the hours for the Saturday night session—9 p.m. until 5:30 a.m.

"We worked it all out," he said. "The last Metro (subway) leaves at midnight. We thought it best to keep the kids off the streets around Pigalle and out of mischief until the Metro starts up again at 5:30 a.m.

"As long as they're inside dancing — remember, when they leave they leave for good — the parents must know they're staying out of trouble."

Adversaries Together in Placing Negroes

By BILL SIMMONS
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two old adversaries in the South's battle over desegregation work together now in a quiet move to place Negroes in responsible state government jobs in Arkansas.

On one side is Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who defied federal power in a short-lived attempt to keep Negroes out of Little Rock Central High School in Little Rock.

On the other side is L.C. Bates, the Negro leader who championed the cause of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in that crisis nine years ago.

Faubus, still the governor, is the ruling thumb on appointments, but Bates, a special adviser, is among those who have The arrangement began two years ago, before Faubus announced in March that he wouldn't seek a seventh two-year term.

Bates and Faubus say their dealings had been on a friendly basis, something not to be taken for personal affection between them.

"Respect would be a more accurate word," Bates said.

Faubus, with a grin, said, "I've always been on a friendly basis with Bates."

But in 1957 they had unfriendly things to say about each other. Bates accused Faubus of giving Arkansas a bad name by opposing court-ordered desegregation. Faubus charged in turn that Bates was ignoring the will of the majority of Arkansas for the sake of the Negro minority.

Today their association rests on practicality.

Faubus must get Negroes on the state payroll to keep federal dollars flowing in. Bates, still an NAACP field secretary, can point to the changes and tell his people that segregation is crumbling — at the top as well as the bottom.

More than 200 Negroes have been hired for state jobs in agencies which handle federal funds since the Faubus-Bates arrangement began. It is a matter of necessity, federal law requiring equal job opportunities for all races when federal mon-

"Faubus has changed his practices, not his attitude," Bates said. "My attitude is the same, too, for getting more and better jobs for Negroes."

"He plays politics, we know that," Bates said. "But while he's playing politics, we're getting some of the things we've been fighting for."

Faubus didn't seek Bates out but accepted Bates' offer of advice in the selection of qualified Negroes for the positions previously not open to them.

Morris Will Place Talent on the Line

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse will put his recognized talent as a parliamentary tactician on the line in the Senate in the next few weeks, with the fate of home rule for the District of Columbia riding on the outcome.

The Oregon Democrat's plan is to force a vote on self-representation for Washington's 800,000 citizens by bypassing the House District of Columbia Committee, the burling ground for home rule legislation since World War II.

Until Morse, one of the most persistent of home rule advocates, stepped into the breach, home rule appeared dead for this session of Congress.

Whether he can force passage may depend on how much support the White House gives him.

Early last September, the prospects for home rule appeared brighter than they had at any time since 1874, the year Congress substituted appointed commissioners for local government.

In response to a personal plea from President Johnson, a majority of House members had, by petition, forced the administration's home rule bill from the committee and brought it to the floor for a vote.

Johnson said the step presaged "victory in the final battle of the American Revolution." Home rule supporters were jubilant. The President's power of persuasion had carried the day again.

Said Joseph L. Rauh Jr., a leader of home rule lobbyists: "When I was a kid, it was always a sure thing when you bet on Joe Louis, the Yankees and Notre Dame. Now I'd add a fourth—LBJ."

By the end of the month the jubilation had turned to despair.

While the administration bill would have given Washington a mayor and council, the House passed a substitute bill providing for a referendum on whether district residents want home rule.

There matters stood when Congress quit for the year and there they stood Sunday when Morse announced his plan at a home rule rally at the Washington Monument. The Senate and House were in sharp disagreement and the House District Committee, dominated by Southern conservatives, wouldn't even appoint conferees to try to resolve the differences.

The fact that about 62 per cent of Washington's residents and Negroes undoubtedly has a lot to do with the failure of hundreds of home rule bills in past years.

There have been hints that continued failure may touch off an explosion. For example Marlon Barry Jr., Washington head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, vowed last week: "We aren't going to be nice anymore in demanding changes because we're tired of that mess."

What Morse plans to do is to attach a modified version of the Senate-passed home rule bill to the administration's higher education bill, expected to clear the Senate Labor and Education Committee in a few weeks.

If the Senate approves the amendment, the bill would go to the House Education and Labor Committee, headed by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., who supports the Morse plan.

So far this year, Johnson has had little to say about home rule. He appealed for its enactment in his State of the Union message Jan. 12 and in submitting the district's budget to Congress Jan. 25 urged the House "to complete action" on the Senate-passed bill.

Home rule advocates are hoping he'll take a more active role before Congress goes home.

Communists Concerned Over Threat

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Though Communist countries have a marked habit of not always following through on bellicose statements, there is real concern here that North Viet Nam may try downed American pilots as war criminals.

The concern is based in part on the effectiveness of the air strikes against oil facilities outside Hanoi and Haiphong and on the fact that U.S. authorities believe North Viet Nam is hard-pressed for men and materiel.

As far back as last September, the North Vietnamese government threatened in a letter to the International Red Cross at Geneva to try captured American pilots as war criminals.

And yet it wasn't until last month or so that official Washington demonstrated deep concern.

There are at least three reasons for the mounting anxiety:

1. The parading of dozens of captured American pilots through the main street of Hanoi July 6 before jeering crowds shouting: "Death to the American pirates. Punish the war criminals severely."

2. The recent multiplicity of threats in official and semi-official North Vietnamese quarters that the pilots would be tried.

3. The psychological and material losses suffered by North Viet Nam in the devastating oil strikes, leading to the belief that Hanoi — if only for the sake of face — may feel compelled to retaliate in some dramatic way. What would the Communists hope to accomplish by trying the pilots as war criminals? There are several theories current here. Among them:

1. Uniting the civilian population in the North behind Hanoi's military efforts in the South by hammering home the idea that the North Vietnamese are the victims of criminal action by the United States.

2. Rallying world opinion to Hanoi's side via the same theme.

3. Getting material help from sympathetic countries and spurring its own people to keep up the war's manpower demands.

4. Turning American public opinion against President Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

The last could turn out to be a miscalculation. Many critics of the war already have joined with administration officials in trying to head off "war crimes" trials.

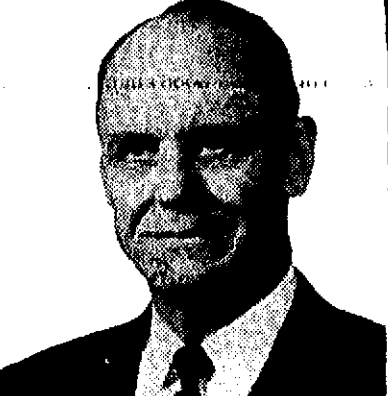

Last Friday, 18 of the Senate's "doves" urged Hanoi to "refrain from any act of violence" against captured American airmen and said execution "would incite a public demand for retaliation swift and sure."

And on Monday, Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, told the international Red Cross such trials could lead to "disastrous consequences."

Slammin Sam Snead Pulls Big Surprise

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Slammin' Sammy Snead, the 54-year-old West Virginian, and Al Geiberger, a serious and studious 28-year-old from California, are threatening to upset the dopesters in the PGA's Golden Anniversary Golf Tournament.

To the surprise of everyone, including themselves, the two played with deadly accuracy Thursday to share the first-round lead with two-under-par 68s.

One stroke behind were Doug Sanders, Julius Boros and Don January, while Jack Cupit was the only player in the field of 165 to match the Firestone Country Club course par 35-35—70 for the 7,180-yard layout.

Favorites Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer stumbled around with 75s, and duplicating shabby performances in today's second round might find them failing to make the cut. Defending champion Dave Marr also had a 75.

Snead, who the day before the tournament complained of aches and pains and was afraid he wouldn't make the 36-hole cut, laughed and joked about his fantastic round. But there was nothing funny about his game.

He bagged five birdies and might have held the undisputed lead had he canned an eight-foot putt on the 18th hole after working his way around a tree and out of a trap.

"The putt was so bad," said Snead, "that I was ashamed to pick up the ball. I felt like a monkey with a football who didn't know where to put it."

Geiberger, unlike Sneak who has three PGA titles in the long list of championships he had captured, never has won a major crown.

But the skinny man, who carries sandwiches in his golf bag to restore his energy, clicked at Firestone last year when he won the American Golf Classic while munching peanut butter and jelly sandwiches.

"I had a sandwich in my bag," laughed Geiberger who started his round with three straight birdies and could nail only one more the rest of the day, "but I never got around to eating it. I had a cheese sandwich before I started and that proved to be enough."

Among the first round leaders, only Sanders, the No. 2 leading money winner behind Billy Casper this year, was considered a threat to capture the elusive title.

Casper, who won the National Open in a playoff against Palmer in San Francisco last month, was in a large group tied for sixth place with 73s.

Five players managed one-over-par 71s. They were Tommy Aaron, Jack Fleck, Larry Beck, Jim Ferrier and Walter Inman, Jr.

Grouped at 72 were George Knudson, Bob Keller, Babe Lichardus, Dan Sikes Jr., and Al Mengert.

Mrs. Bodie's Bid for a 3rd Challenged

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. Barbara Fay Bodie's bid for a third successive championship was challenged by spunky 17-year-old Jane Hunsberger of Carmarillo, Calif., in the semifinals of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament today.

The other semifinal duel over the Barrington Hills Country Club's rolling 6,480-yard course matched Sharron Moran, 23, of Carlsbad, Calif., and 19-year-old Peggy Conley, University of Washington art student from Spokane.

Mrs. Bodie, 26, only survivor among five Curtis Cup starters in an original field 149, sought to become the first winner of three successive titles since Bessie Anthony won in 1901, 1902, 1903.

Mrs. Bodie has dominated the tournament since Monday when she took medalist honors with five-under-par 71 and followed with two-under-par golf in 44 match-play holes.

The defending champion's teenage rival, Miss Hunsberger, made her best showing Thursday with a 3 and 2 quarter-final victory over Bobbie Jo Gabrielson, 19, a University of Georgia sophomore.

Buckpasser, who will be ridden by Braulio Baeza, gave Buffle 12 pounds and beat him by almost a length in the 1 1/2 miles of the Leonard Richards at Delaware Park. He followed up the triumph with a world record mile clocking of 1:32 3-5 in the Arlington Classic and victory in the Chicagoan at Arlington.

Buffle, who probably will be ridden by Ron Turcotte, whipped older horses under 110 pounds in the Suburban July 4, but wasn't able to handle rivals of his own age as Mr. Right won the Dwyer last Saturday at Aqueduct. Pluck ran second and Paoluccio third in the Suburban and then reversed the positions back of Bold Bidder in last week's Monmouth Handicap.

The New York-bred Mr. Harriman, who heads U.S. efforts in behalf of American prisoners in Viet Nam, also said in a Voice of America radio interview that efforts had fallen through to exchange a captured Viet Cong terrorist for Gustav Hertz, a U.S. aid official held by Communist guerrillas.

Hanoi has threatened to try captured American pilots as war criminals, contending the 1949 Geneva convention's prisoners of war rules do not apply to captives of the Viet Nam war.

Officials disclosed Thursday that the United States is informing the International Red Cross through diplomatic channels that it will attend either a large or small conference to discuss applying the Geneva conventions on prisoner treatment.

One possibility, the officials said, would be to have the seven powers with troops in Viet Nam participate in the talks. These are the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, the Philippines and North and South Viet Nam.

They said another possibility might be talks between the United States and North Viet Nam, or a three-country meeting of the United States, South and North Viet Nam.

Meanwhile, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a Chicago news conference the United States should keep Hanoi guessing about what it might do if the captured pilots are executed.

Murphy Promises Mail to Rondo

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Dean Murphy, a Democratic candidate for 4th District congressman, promised that if elected he would do everything in his power to restore full mail service at nearby Rondo.

He said he would do all he could to see that the mail terminal is not phased out, but "restored to full service as before."

He also repeated his pledge to introduce legislation to raise the federal income tax deduction from $600 to $1,200 to save taxpayers money.

Foreign Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., voted Wednesday for an amendment to cut $250 million from the foreign aid bill. The amendment, introduced by Sen. Everett Dirksen, was adopted 59-34.

Brooklyn to Hold Richest Horse Race

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Handicap, rich in turf lore with many of the sport's greatest on its list of winners, will have its 78th running Saturday at Aqueduct with a pair of young upstarts—Buckpasser and Buffle—threatening to turn the 1 1/4-mile $100,000-added race into a two-horse duel.

Only nine 3-year-olds have won the race since its inception in 1887. The last one was The Chief, who showed older horses the way home in 1938 under the light weight of 105 pounds.

Ogden Phipps' Buckpasser, No. 1 candidate for the 3-year-old title after winning the 2-year-old crown last year, will be the top weight under 120 pounds.

Buffle, from Robert Kleburg's King Ranch, gets in with 113. Other likely starters include the Meadowbrook Farm's Tio Viejo, 113; Harry F. Guggenheim's Pluck, 112, and Green-tree Stable's Paoluccio, 107.

Buckpasser, who will be ridden by Braulio Baeza, gave Buffle 12 pounds and beat him by almost a length in the 1 1/2 miles of the Leonard Richards at Delaware Park. WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., voted Wednesday for an amendment to cut $250 million from the foreign aid bill. The amendment, introduced by Sen. Everett Dirksen, was adopted 59-34.

10 slated for the six furlongs of the $100,000-added Hollywood Juvenile Championship at Hollywood Park.

Asked if this was a move to establish a farm system, all baseball, Finks replied:

"I don't know whether you can call it that or not. Frankly it looks to me like all the clubs are going to have to go in this direction. But to what extent it will develop, I don't know."

In the light of the fact that 24 or more clubs will be drafting players next year, plus other leagues will be vying for players, good football players are going to be harder to come by.

"We feel we can retain the rights to some players by having them play at Des Moines," Finks said the Vikings are not the first pro football team to have such an agreement. "Some of the clubs in the East have done it for several years," Finks said.

Dog Stories—

L Carter Johnson being a freight-rate consultant he keeps up with the various road journals, and relayed to me this one from the Great Northern Goat:

CANINE CAPER

The man in the movie theater was amazed to see a shaggy dog seated next to a woman in front of him. To his surprise, the dog laughed, chortled and chuckled at the appropriate places.

During intermission, the man confronted the woman saying: "You know, I find it simply astounding that your dog enjoyed the movie so much!"

"I'm a bit surprised myself," she replied. "He hated the book."

Dogs may not be that smart, but they certainly keep you under observation every waking moment.

Between my back yard where two dogs live and the "back 40" where the ducks and geese roam is a gate, which I secure by putting the padlock in the hasp but leaving it unlocked. At first the open end of the padlock was toward me — but I changed that.

My young Boxer watched carefully every time I removed the padlock. One day I found the padlock missing, and knew of course it hadn't walked away unassisted.

So I scouted the backyard, thought of a place in the hedge where the young dog usually polished off his bones — and there was the padlock.

Now the padlock is on the hasp with its open face out of view — and a smart dog hasn't yet figured out how to lift it. He double-crossed me, so now I've reversed the field on him.

Infiltration of Reds Pick Up in South

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials said today there is reason to believe North Vietnamese troops have been moving across the demilitarized border into South Viet Nam because monsoon rains are hindering travel over the main infiltration route through Laos.

Until recent months, sources said, provable penetration by the Communists across the demilitarized zone was slight, although a larger infiltration that way was suspected.

The six-mile-wide zone along the 17th Parallel was established by the 1954 Geneva conference that partitioned North and South Viet Nam.

Starting in May, the sources said, evidence began to accumulate that infiltration across and around the end of the zone was becoming considerable.

The current estimate is that three Communist regiments — some 4,500 men — are in the general area below the demilitarized zone. Two of these are said to be North Vietnamese and one Viet Cong.

In addition, there are possibly two more North Vietnamese regiments in that mountainous region. Such a force would total about 3,000 regulars.

The week-long campaign by a mixed force of about 10,000 U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops has been aimed at spoiling any major initiative by the Communist forces centered in that area.

Such spoiling operations are now basic U.S. tactics. Officials credit their effectiveness with bringing what Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has called military gains.

The normal enemy strategy is to move stealthily into areas with large numbers of troops and then to strike with surprise against weaker opposing forces.

There were suggestions a year or more ago that the Communists might try to hit the Da Nang Marine, Air Force and Navy complex in a bid to inflict a major defeat on the Americans, as the Viet Minh did against the French at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

Riots Reach Brooklyn, Youth Killed

By GIL SCOTT
NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of residents of a tense, racially mixed Brooklyn slum area battled each other and police Thursday night with guns, bottles and rocks. An 11-year-old Negro boy was killed, apparently by sniper fire.

The violence broke out in the East New York section, a tenement neighborhood that for months has been the scene of sporadic fighting among Negroes, Puerto Ricans and Italian-Americans.

Ten policemen, four firemen and three residents of the area were reported injured, none seriously.

Earlier in the evening, a 3-year-old Negro boy was wounded in the stomach by a rifle bullet 20 blocks away from the scene of the disorders, but police said the incident was unrelated.

Eight Negroes were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to throwing fire bombs.

Store windows in the area were smashed and there was some looting, police reported.

The dead boy, Eric Dean, was hit in the chest, apparently by a sniper's bullet, police said, as Negroes carrying bottles, rocks and sticks roamed neighborhood streets. They said they were armed to ward off possible attacks by whites.

When the boy was shot, police at first calmed the crowd by telling them he had fainted. But when word spread that he was dead, cries of "Let's get 'em!"

Israeli Raid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council will meet Monday to discuss an Israeli air raid on a Syrian construction site July 14. The Israeli target was a site where the Syrians are working to divert waters of a tributary of the Jordan River.

Going to Make Electronic Hands Work

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Joseph Weisz slowly opened and closed his electronic hands, then told his fellow meatcutters "I'm going to make these hands do as much as any normal hands do."

The stocky, 47-year-old Romanian native lost both hands last Nov. 18 when he tried to free a piece of meat stuck in a steel meat press. He had returned in March after doctors fitted him with hooklike devices.

Then a fellow employee gave Seisz a New York newspaper story about the electronic hands. He entered the Montreal Institute of Rehabilitation, the nearest place where the hands, made in Russia, are available. He returned to his job as a meat cutting supervisor Wednesday.

His hands are made of plastic and are operated by a small motor attached to arm transistors. Movement of the arm muscles sets off the mechanism, which is powered by batteries hooked to a belt.

China Retaliates Against Dutch

TOKYO (AP) — Red China declared the Dutch charge d'affaires in Peking persona non grata today in retaliation for the expulsion of his Chinese counterpart from the Netherlands, the Communist New China News Agency announced.

The report said the Dutch diplomat, G.J. Jongejans, would not be allowed to leave China until a Chinese delegation to an international congress of technicians in the Netherlands had left safely.

The Dutch government expelled the Chinese charge d'affaires in The Hague, Li En-chiu, after members of his staff kidnapped from a hospital an injured Chinese engineer attending the congress. The engineer, who was found with a fractured skull and a serious back injury in front of the Chinese legation, died.

A lady called, anxious to vote in the congressional race in which Murphy, Prior, Arnold and others are seeking the seat vacated by Oren Harris. . . the answer is, she can't if she lives in Hempstead. . . this county has been placed in the third congressional district and can no longer vote in the fourth. . . another enquiry is about voting in both the Republic and Democratic primaries. . . the answer there is one or the other, not both. . . however, in the November election there is really nothing at all to keep a person from voting for the man, either Democratic or Republican and its this choice that makes for more honest politicians. . . Going down to the wire the politicians are getting in some fairly desperate licks. . . they have done so much for the GOOD people of the area and Arkansas (actually the state ranks last in about everything except politicians). . . just glancing at the morning papers we see where one is gonna eat rice at every meal (he was talking over at Stuttgart where they raise rice). . . another plans to make the state a playground (it almost is already with all the lush jobs created by federal money, in fact the instructors almost outnumber the kids who don't have to be taught to play, believe me, they know how). . . another pledges support to education (who doesn't but you can't do much else or Uncle Sam will cut off your own money for education). . . another is going to reduce taxes (never in my whole life has a tax been cut without another replacing it). . . then this one has built all the roads in the area (we didn't know this until now). . . another cites his seniority that means so much (to his lush pension plan, we presume) it makes you wonder how in the world we ever got along before this fellow was elected. . . there's just something about serving the public that makes every politician want to do it the rest of his life, aren't we working people of today lucky to have so many that want to serve us? . . . Tuesday, I'm gonna cast my vote and hope you do too.

Mrs. J.C. Broyles is in the Baptist Hospital, Lamar Unit, 1025 Crump Blvd. room 323, in Memphis, Tenn.

Men of Arkansas' 39th Infantry Division, counterpart of National Guard troops, will train August 6-20 at Fort Chaffee near Fort Smith. . . units from this area include Hope, and Prescott.

Marines Kill 1000 Enemy in Fighting

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines battled through the night against a large force from an elite North Vietnamese division in the jungles and hills nearly atop the 17th Parallel frontier. At dawn, they called in Marine planes to prevent the enemy from fleeing toward Laos.

Hard fighting pushed the probable Communist toll in the eight-day Marine drive to more than 1,000 killed, the Marine command said.

In Saigon, U.S. military headquarters said the foe was the crack North Vietnamese 324-B Division of 8,000 to 10,000 men under the command of a tough mountaineer general known to favor "human wave" assaults.

It was the first time in the war a full North Vietnamese division has been reported in action in the South as a single organized force.

Over the Communist North, U.S. jet planes kept up the unrelenting air war, attacking nine oil depots and touching off fires at seven of them, despite a heavy barrage of 19 missiles. The loss of two more planes during the raids Thursday brought the toll over the North to nine this week.

One of the pilots was rescued. The other was listed as missing.

A U.S. spokesman refused to say whether any of the Soviet-built missiles brought down either of the planes.

A task force of 7,000 U.S. Marines and 3,000 South Vietnamese troops just below the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Arsonists in Cleveland Keep Up Riots

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Arsonists caused mounting destruction in the fourth straight night of disorder in Negro slums and other areas on Cleveland's East Side Thursday night, putting a heavy strain on this city's firefighting forces.

The Fire Department reported before midnight that all East Side fire equipment was in use and that additional equipment would be called from West Side stations.

However, incidents of arson and firebombing appeared to be tapering off early today.

Firebombs ignited numerous fires Thursday night — another night of hectic scrambling by firemen. There were reports of gunfire in several spots but the only known victim was wounded accidentally by his own gun.

Police were reinforced by nearly 2,000 National Guardsmen in patrolling wide areas radiating from the slum storm center, now sealed off.

The toll of violence after four days: Two Negroes killed by gunfire. More than 30 persons injured. Heavy property damage from fires, window smashing and looting.

Vacant buildings were a frequent target of arsonists in and around the Hough section, center of rioting that was triggered Monday night by a tavern dispute.

The biggest blazes Thursday night ruined two unoccupied apartment houses. There were numerous small fires. In the early morning hours today, fire broke out at a supermarket outside the riot area.

The rioting, which has brought a move for congressional inquiry here and in several other cities, stirred anger and apprehension among Negro residents living in and around the worst hit areas of Cleveland.
